Order Closer Watch On Graf Spee Crew

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Argentine government, in a decree made public today, ordered increased surveillance over the interned crew members of the scuttled German pocket battleship, Graf Spee to prevent additional escapes.

Chinese Take Towns

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chinese troops with U.S. air support recaptured many towns and inflicted heavy losses on Japanese columns, reinforced to 60,000, along the Tungting Lake-Yangtze River front in central China, the Chinese high command announced today.

1 Killed, 9 Injured As Crane Collapses

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—One man was killed and nine others injured here today when an electric loading crane collapsed in the steel plant's scrap yard. The crane crumpled and threw the workmen about 40 feet to the ground.

Burma Kept Ablaze

NEW DELHI (AP)—British and U.S. air forces are keeping fires blazing almost continually in Burma. R.A.F. fighter-bombers and dive-bombers were active throughout the day in the Kalamy region and around Maung-daw, starting many fires.

Dark Felt, Favorite Wins Melbourne Cup

MELBOURNE (CP)—Dark Felt, co-favorite and winner of 10 races since July, today won the Melbourne Cup race at Flemington by three lengths over Counsel, which was three-quarters of a length ahead of Claudette. The winner started at odds of 7 to 1, as did Skipton which won the race last year.

Today's running of this greatest of all Australian races was the quietest and dulliest on record. Nevertheless, the total turnover reached a record of nearly $178,000 ($623,000) and it is estimated five times that amount passed through the hands of bookmakers.

Edmonton Miners Resume

EDMONTON (CP)—Striking Edmonton and district coal miners today decided to return to the pits Monday morning until Nov. 23. Decision followed a three-hour meeting behind closed doors with Robert Livett of Calgary, president of the U.M.W.A.

Vatican Protests

BERNE (AP)—A Swiss Telegraph Agency dispatch from Rome, quoting a Vatican informant, said today the Holy See had given representatives of belligerent powers a note protesting the violation of Vatican neutrality in the bombing of Nov. 5.

Dogs Rampage

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. J. A. Miller reported to police today that damage estimated at between $150 and $200 was caused Friday when her pet dog's 20 enthusiastic visitors got loose in her home, fought upstairs and downstairs, and left the house in a shambles.

2,500 Poles Murdered

NEW YORK (AP)—The Polish Telegraph Agency said today that the Germans in a mounting campaign of mass executions, have shot 2,500 Poles in Bialystok and Lomza. Whole families were said to have been executed in Lomza, where the victims totaled more than 1,000, and the town of Paulice in the Wolowysk district was reported destroyed.

Fall of Zhitomir To Soviets Opens Road to Balkans

RUSSIA'S YEAR OF VICTORY—It was mid-November in 1942 when Russia started on the comeback trail by counterattacking at Stalingrad and in the Caucasus. By winter's end Soviet forces had pushed the Nazis back to Rostov and Kharkov and resumed the offensive last summer to drive to the Dnieper. Broad white band of recaptured territory is now greater than the Russian area still held by the Nazis.

LONDON (CP)—Russian forces have captured Zhitomir, cutting the major German railroad from Odessa to Leningrad.

Capture of the rail centre 90 miles west of Kiev was announced in a special order of the day from Marshal Stalin to Gen. Nikolai Vatutin, conqueror of Kiev.

Zhitomir is a hub of rail lines and highways in the western Ukraine, and lies 60 miles from the Polish border.

The city of 95,000 is within 120 miles of Bessarabia, which Rumania annexed after the last war and which Russia reclaimed before the German invasion.

The cutting of the railway is one of the major Russian victories of the offensive, because it forces the Germans to rely on a circuitous single-tracked system 100 miles west of the present fighting lines. In effect, it does much to split the German armies of north and south Russia apart and opens the way for a Soviet plunge into Poland and the restive Balkans.

The secondary rail link on which the central German armies must depend for shifting troops and bringing up supplies extends from Minsk through Baronowicz and Rowne, then eastward to Sheptovka and southward to Proskura on the Odessa-Lviv line.

Cossack Divisions Praised by Stalin

In his order of the day broadcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor here, Stalin singled out the hard-riding Cossack divisions.

The premier's congratulatory message placed these daring riders at the head of a list of 17 divisions recommended for the award of the Red Banner or other high Soviet awards.

Moscow planned to celebrate the victory tonight on a scale reserved for major successes, and Marshal Stalin ordered 224 cannons to boom out 20 salutes in a salute to the conquering Red Army warriors.

The Kiev front in general has been widened to 150 miles from a point south of Rechitsa near Gomel and the Pripiet Marshes to the sector near Berdichev in the western Ukraine.

Both sides are employing large numbers of tanks while Vatutin's army has been assisted also by strong units of Cossack cavalry. The weather is getting colder every day.

1,000 Nazis Killed, Others Captured

South of Rechitsa, where Soviet troops were driving into the Pripiet Marshes to flank the German-held stronghold of Gomel, 1,000 Nazis were killed and many prisoners taken, today's communiqué said.

In a smashing drive beleaguering Germans northeast of Kerch on the Crimean Peninsula, Red Army forces destroyed a flotilla of transports endeavoring to evacuate Nazi troops. There were no survivors, dispatches said, while in land fighting another 1,500 Germans were slain.

Germans and Rumanians, entrenched in the hills around Kerch were reported blasting Russian landing operations with heavy gunfire, but aided by a low-hanging fog, Red Army troops were gradually establishing strong shore positions under cover of Soviet artillery and air force bombers.

(The BBC, broadcasting a report from its Moscow correspondent, which was recorded by CBS, said the Germans already have lost the battle of the Kerch bridgeheads.)

H. L. Smith Heads College, C. L. Campbell, High School

Appointment of Harry L. Smith, M.A., as principal of Victoria College, succeeding the late Percy H. Elliott, M.Sc., awaits approval by the board of governors of the University of British Columbia. It was learned by long distance telephone from Dr. L. S. Kinck, U.B.C. president, today.

The approval, considered merely formal, is expected at the end of the month when the board of governors hold their regular session.

Subject to confirmation of that appointment, the Victoria City School Board has named Lieut. Claude L. Campbell, M.A., R.C. N.V.R., successor to Mr. Smith as principal of Victoria High School. Lieut. Campbell, who has been on leave of absence with the navy for three and one half years, mostly on North Sea and Atlantic convoy, has held the vice-principal's post at Victoria High since 1934, when Mr. Smith was elevated to the top position at that school. Pending his return to Victoria, Harry B. Dee, M.A., present acting vice-principal, will assume his duties.

Mr. Smith's proposed appointment follows a distinguished career in which he has combined scholarship with athletic ability and public service. Born in Charlottetown, P.E.I., in 1889, the son of the county court clerk and the former Miss Lawson, daughter of a former editor of the Colonist, he received his early education in the public schools of the province, and entered Prince of Wales College, P.E.I., as a scholarship candidate from the West Kent School. He graduated as winner of the Governor-General's Medal for general proficiency and was class valedictorian.

Mr. Smith entered McGill University, Montreal, in 1909, and graduated in 1912 with first rank honors in English, winning the Shakespearean medal.

Returning to McGill he took his M.A. in 1926 and later has pursued post-graduate studies at the University of Washington. Mr. Smith opened his teaching career in 1907 in Prince Edward Island and, following graduation, taught for a year at Westmount Academy, Quebec. He joined the staff of Victoria High School in 1914, and has remained there since, assuming the posts of vice-principal in 1926 and principal in 1934.

In the athletic field he was president and member of the McGill track team, intercollegiate pole vault champion and a member of the intercollegiate McGill championship hockey team of 1912.

In Victoria he played with the Victoria Rep Rugby Club for several years, and was a member of the Victoria Senators hockey team.

His contributions to the public life of the city include work for the Metropolitan United Church, membership on the provincial central curriculum revision committee, Victoria representative on the Dominion Civil Service Commission, chairman of the advisory committee on National Selective Service, president for two years of the University Extension Society and president of the local branch of the McGill Graduates Society.

NO MORE SEASICK SAILORS—Tossing and rolling in his bird cage on the seaisick roller-see-saw machine at the Montreal Neurological Institute, a sailor guinea-pig here contemplates an empty bucket, while another recovers from the malady on a bunk far below. Through such experimentation under Dr. Wilder Penfield and Surgeon Capt. C. H. Best, R.C.N.V.R., Canadian Navy has discovered a seasickness cure, now embodied in a secret capsule, being produced in quantity to be used to keep navy men on their feet. (See Page 2 for story.)

'Too Good to Be True'

As news of free electricity for November and December swept the city today, the reaction at first was one of complete disbelief.

"What is this, a gag?" asked more than one cynic, who just couldn't believe that for the first time in his life he wouldn't have to pay an electric light bill for two months.

Most people said they wouldn't believe it until they read it in the paper. One or two said they wouldn't believe it until they failed to get any light bills for November and December.

Typical comment, from the man and woman on the street, when the whole set-up was explained to them, follows:

Mayor McGavin: "It's lovely, isn't it?"

Evelyn Caldwell, reporter: "Isn't that wonderful?"

W. B. Wilson, wholesaler: "It sounds queer to me."

Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer: "I say, that's a lovely idea."

Alf Food, foods ration officer: "Well, I'll be darned."

Dave Porter, elevator operator: "I can't believe you yet."

Joe Dakers, customs examining officer: "I'll believe that when I see it."

Mrs. A. R. Lent, housewife, 2533 Prior Street, "That's all right."

Wm. Mathison: "That's fine."

Mrs. S. M. Hobbs, secretary, Island Arts and Crafts Society: "Why, what's the idea?" Oh, how lovely."

Some people said they intended to burn their lights and cook electrically without much thought of the bill. Some said they would leave their porch lights burning most evenings, to lighten up the streets.

In view of the gift, it is expected consumption of electricity will soar, with householders burning fireplaces, stoves, sunray lamps and all other appliances full blast. For two months the housewife will be able to bake a cake one day and a pudding the next, without trying to get all her cooking done at once to save money.

Badoglio Names 'Technical' Govt.
SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ITALY (AP)—Wearied by futile attempts to obtain a representative cabinet, aged Marshal Pietro Badoglio today organized a "technical" government consisting of himself as premier and a series of undersecretaries and experts to carry on the actual business of administration.

The makeshift move obviously was forced by a flat refusal of any members of the six anti-Fascist political parties led by Count Carlo Sforza to join in a united front government as long as King Victor Emmanuel remained on the throne.

Nazis Quitting Finland
NEW YORK (AP)—Albin Johnson, CBS correspondent, said in a broadcast from Stockholm today that the evacuation of German troops from Finland appears to be definitely under way. It looks like another strategic retreat, with the Finns being left to shift for themselves.

At the same time, Johnson said, large German reinforcements were pouring into Denmark from the south.

Mussolini's Aides Seize King's Fortune

LONDON (CP)—The Paris radio reported today that the personal fortune of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy—which it estimated at $40,000,000—had been seized by Mussolini's "Republican" Fascist government.

D.S.O. for Ottawa

LONDON (CP)—The King has approved the award of the Distinguished Service Order to Acting Wing Cmdr. George Francis Grant of Ottawa, a member of the R.A.F. He already holds the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Householders of Greater Victoria will not have to pay any electric light bills for November and December, Premier John Hart announced today.

The Premier's unprecedented Christmas present, most generous ever given by any government to the people of this province, was announced as Mr. Hart made public the exhaustive report of the survey made by the Public Utilities Commission into the operations of the B.C. Electric Railway Company.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the commission, estimates the total saving to consumers in B.C. will be approximately $1,000,000.

The cancellation of light charges will apply not only to households, but to civic street lighting, advertising signs, office buildings and schools, but will not apply to certain industrial users.

In Vancouver and the lower mainland electricity users will be given light free only for November, as excess of revenues in that area is not as high as on Vancouver Island.

NO FREE GAS
Gas bills will not be forgiven, as the company's gas branch is not making money.

Asked why Victoria would be given two months' bills and Vancouver but one, Dr. Carrothers said "the cost of giving the electric service in the Greater Victoria area has been relatively less in relation to the rates charged than in other areas."

The basic rate in Greater Victoria is about a cent more than in Greater Vancouver.

The government, acting on the advice of the commission, is now preparing an order-in-council for the Lieutenant-Governor's signature, under which it will be illegal for the B.C. Electric to submit bills to consumers for electricity in the specified periods.

City of Victoria will save nearly $4000 on its street lighting bill. In November-December, 1941, the street lighting cost $3,867. Last November-December, because there was a dimout, the total street light bill was $2,398.

Domestic bills vary from $2 a month, in small households, to $20 and $25 a month in homes where there are half a dozen people and where all cooking is done by electricity.

WORKING OUT DETAILS
A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric, spent the morning at the commission's office, working out details. At noon he said he didn't know what the total saving would be to consumers in Greater Victoria until he had seen and studied the government's order-in-council ordering cancellation of electricity bills.

For instance, it is not yet known whether hospitals will get free electricity or not. Hotels, too, may not be included. It will

$37,934 Excess on Trams Here

B.C. Electric Railway Company's streetcar service in Greater Victoria last year made an excess profit for the first time in years, its electric light services had the greatest excess profits for a long time and its gas service showed a greater deficit than in recent years.

These facts are revealed in the Public Utilities Commission's report.

The transportation system in Greater Victoria last year had a revenue of $648,366, its service cost was $610,432, to show an excess profit, over and above what the Public Utilities Commission considers a fair return, of $37,934. Since 1939 the transportation system showed deficits, in 1939 as high as $88,000.

The electric services of Greater Victoria last year had a revenue of $1,921,192, a service cost of $1,583,872, to show an excess of $337,320. In 1939 this excess was $213,720, in 1940 $125,949, in 1941 $275,861.

The gas service deficit last year was $57,530, in 1939 it was $50,890, in 1940 $36,654, in 1941 $28,287.

Transportation system on the lower mainland last year had an excess of $459,205; electric services there had an excess profit of $561,939 and gas service had a deficit of $170,205. Interurban transportation system on the lower mainland showed an excess of $436,774.

utility to make reductions which were not justifiable. Whatever the cause, the result has been discrimination against the users in more profitable areas. These discriminations will properly be adjusted when rate structures are re-examined.

"At the local hearings," the report said elsewhere, "some evidence on rate structures was heard, but for the time being these matters will be dealt with individually as they arise in order that any obvious discriminations may be removed. Before a full revision of rate schedules is made, a further intensive study by the commission will be necessary and further hearings will be held." (See Page 7 for further details.)

7 Fliers Killed in Newfoundland

HALIFAX (CP)—Seven members of the R.C.A.F. and the R.A.F., including a wing commander and an officer of the Women's Division, are "missing," believed killed after the crash of a twin-engine flying boat in Newfoundland, the Eastern Air Command has announced.

Five others aboard the plane were slightly injured in the crash, which occurred Monday evening while the big craft was attempting a landing on a lake at a Newfoundland air base after a trans-Atlantic flight. Bad weather and poor visibility were blamed for the crash.

The seven believed killed were four of the five passengers and three of the seven-man crew.

De Marigny Faces Lie Detector Test To Show Innocence

By E. V. W. JONES

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Alfred de Marigny answered with an unhesitating "No" when asked during a lie detector test if he had killed Sir Harry Oakes, Leonardo B. Keeler, private criminologist, said today.

Keeler said the needles of the machine kept on a straight path indicating the truth when De Marigny, acquitted by a Bahamas Supreme Court jury of a charge of slaying the wealthy father-in-law, answered the question in a demonstration Friday night.

The lie detector device is not recognized by British courts and could not be used in De Marigny's defence during the sensational 22-day trial which ended with a verdict of innocent Thursday night.

Twenty friends, including defence attorneys Godfrey Higgs and W. E. A. Callender and their wives and the Baron and Baroness George Aftrolle watched, the room tense with excitement.

VITAL QUESTION

Keeler began with unimportant questions then asked, "When you took those two ladies home the night of July 7, did you return straight home?"

He referred to De Marigny's testimony that on the night of the slaying he took two women dinner guests home and returned to his cottage about 1.30 a.m. and retired.

"Yes," De Marigny replied.

"Did you enter Westbourne (Sir Harry's home where he was slain)?"

"No."

"Did you kill Sir Harry Oakes?"

"No."

"Were you in the room when someone else killed Sir Harry Oakes?"

"No."

"Did you place your hand on that screen between the time of the murder and the discovery of the body?"

"No."

Keeler said every needle kept to an even path, indicating the truth.

A fingerprint of De Marigny's right little finger which the prosecution contended was found on a screen in the bedroom where Sir Harry was slain was a keystone in the prosecution's case.

At a press conference Friday afternoon De Marigny shrugged his shoulders and declared "I am staying in Nassau" despite a recommendation that he be deported, by the jury which acquitted him.

They were: Passengers—Wing-Commander R. R. Ings, Charlottetown; Fit. Lt. J. C. Redmond, Edmonton; Section Officer Irene Watson, New Toronto, Ont., and a member of the R.A.F. whose name is being withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

Crew—WO. Robert Fleming Lowther, navigator, of Maclean, N.S.; WO. Mandel Max Epstein, wireless air-gunner, Montreal; Sgt. Eric John Mills, wireless air-gunner, Timmins, Ont.

SLIGHTLY INJURED

Passenger—FO. James Dalgleish, Toronto.

Crew—PO. William Keough Cairns, Weston, Ont., captain of the aircraft; Fit. Sgt. Frederick Dixon Hirtle, Strathmore, Alta. second pilot; Sgt. A. H. Jones, Brantford, Ont., first engineer; LAC. Percy Leroy Marsh, Fredrickton, second engineer.

The official statement indicated those who escaped have been treated for comparatively minor injuries and that at least one man—Fit. Sgt. Hirtle—has already been released from hospital.

V.I. Coal Miners To Work Monday

Nanaimo and Cumberland coal miners voted Friday to return to work Monday morning.

Meanwhile, at Edmonton, Friday the Royal Commission under chairmanship of Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor, concluded its one-day session. It will sit again Monday to hear representations by miners in the Edmonton field on levelling of the wage structure in that field with that prevailing throughout District 18.

The Alberta Farmers' Union in a resolution wired to Prime Minister King today recommended "that miners' demands be instantly complied with" and that the Dominion government subsidize coal costs to the consumers so there would be no increase in price pending final arrangements by the investigating committee.

The resolution said the union recognized the urgent need to get miners back to work because of the serious situation due to depleted coal supplies.

U.S. Government Files Proposals To Restrain A.P.

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. government asked the U.S. District Court Friday perpetually to enjoin and restrain the Associated Press from observing by-laws which "permit newspapers desiring AP service to be denied such service because they offer competition to existing AP members."

A proposed form of judgment in the government's civil anti-trust suit against the AP also would restrain the news-gathering co-operative from withholding its services from non-AP newspapers, from carrying out its exclusive news contract with the Canadian Press and from observing by-laws regarding exclusiveness of local spontaneous news furnished by its members.

On these, however, the AP could apply for modification if it amended its by-laws regarding admission of members.

The proposed decree would permit the AP to apply for modification of these three provisions "upon furnishing satisfactory proof that they have amended the by-laws . . . in conformity with the opinion of this court."

RULING GIVEN OCT. 6.

John Henry Lewin, special assistant to the U.S. Attorney-General, filed the proposed judgment and 146 findings of fact with the court. The government was directed to submit its proposals when a special court ruled Oct. 6 in a 2-to-1 decision that the AP had the right to pass upon admission of applicants, but that the by-laws "in their present form" violated the anti-trust laws.

The special court directed that the by-laws be changed to prevent a member in the same field (morning, evening, or Sunday) in the same area as an applicant from imposing any condition for admission.

The AP now has 30 days to file counterproposals to the government's proposed findings of fact and judgment. The final form will then be decided by the court, after which an appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court of the U.S.

Unclaimed Cheques

SEATTLE (AP)—Unclaimed-for pay cheques at the Boeing plant now total 5,820, representing approximately $89,000 in unclaimed wages of employees who apparently have wandered away without leaving a forwarding address. The largest, company officials say, is for $180.07.

Seasickness Beaten By New Pink Pill Developed by Navy

OTTAWA (CP)—A "pink" pill cure and preventive for seasickness and airsickness—effective for 75 per cent of persons normally susceptible—has been developed by the Royal Canadian Navy in one of the major medical advances of the war, it was announced here.

The capsules now are in mass production and will soon be issued to ships for general use at sea, naval service headquarters said, but they are not likely to be available to civilians until after the war.

The prospect is that the new preventive will be issued to troops before they set out on the impending opening of a "second front" in Europe.

"Its greatest service may be in protecting invasion troops carried by the navy; men who must be ready for intense fighting before they set foot on land," the navy's statement said.

IN THE AIR

"Experimental data thus far obtained indicates the remedy is equally effective in the treatment of airsickness—of particular importance to airborne troops."

The formula for the pink capsules is a war secret. They look like an ordinary capsule. They are taken by mouth one or two hours before sailing or in rough weather and remain effective for eight hours.

"Additional capsules may be taken every eight hours for two days and may be repeated if the individual has not then found his sea legs," said the statement.

"In persons already seasick the remedy is equally effective as a curative measure. It produces no harmful results and does not reduce fighting efficiency."

VALUABLE TO NAVY

For naval personnel it will mean every man can be kept in "tip-top efficiency," particularly in the first two days of a voyage when even seasoned sailors sometimes become ill.

The navy's announcement said thousands of experiments have disclosed the basic cause of seasickness is a "maladjustment of the equilibrium apparatus of the inner ear." Psychological factors may be a contributing cause in some individuals.

Heading research workers in the experiments, carried out by the R.C.N. medical research unit, were Surgeon Capt. C. H. Best, co-discoverer of insulin with the late Sir Frederick Banting and director of the unit, and Dr. Wilfred Penfield of the Montreal Neurological Institute.

Sir Frederick was the first to become interested in seasickness research, but before he could get started at it he was killed in an aircraft in Newfoundland, en route to Britain.

Early in 1941 Surgeon Capt. Best—not then in the navy—proposed research be undertaken under navy auspices, and this was done.

Rehabilitation Body Told Nazis Trying To Kill Off Poles

By SIGRID ARNE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The council which will direct United Nations relief and rehabilitation started work on its main plans today.

"The Germans," Jan Kwapiński, Poland's representative, told the U.N.R.R.A. delegates Friday, "have set out to destroy our educated classes. My people have only 800 calories a day, and the Polish Jews 400. Only 30 per cent of our Jewish population survives. Epidemics are spreading which may menace the entire continent. Some 8,600,000 Poles are displaced from their homes."

Yugoslavia's delegate, Constantin Fotitch, said his country had lost 7 per cent of its people.

Is Victoria a "MUSICAL" CITY?

In other words, are there a sufficient number of Victorians who care enough about good music to support a Symphony Orchestra that will bring such music within the enjoyment of all?

Victoria now has a Symphony Orchestra under the able leadership of Melvin Knudsen. Last season all the expense of promotion and the two public performances were borne by only 450 subscribing members. We plan a still worthier presentation and can accommodate many new members, as we hope to hold future concerts in the Royal Victoria Theatre. We want YOU to be one of them.

The modest fee of $2.50 per annum makes you a subscribing member and entitles you to reserved seats for at least two performances planned for this season.

T.B. Rate Cut
By Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan had the lowest tuberculosis death rate of any province in Canada in 1942, its percentage being 28.1 per 100,000 population, says a report issued by Hon. J. M. Uhrich, Minister of Public Health.

Saskatchewan placed second to Ontario in the 1941 death rate, its percentage at that time being 38.2 per 100,000 population.

Deaths claimed by tuberculosis in 1942 totaled 255 in Saskatchewan compared with 286 in 1941, Uhrich said.

"Saskatchewan, with its death rate from tuberculosis of 28.1 per 100,000 population, has the best record in this respect in the entire world," said Dr. Uhrich.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

It's becoming more apparent daily that the immediate future of the world depends chiefly on collaboration among the Big Three—Britain, the U.S. and Russia.

The essence of this fact was emphasized by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in his report to the House of Commons on the Tri-partite Conference at Moscow. After stressing the good will and confidence established, he said:

"The truth must be faced that it is on the part of these three powers principally that will lie the responsibility for insuring that this war be followed by lasting peace. If they could agree together there is no point that is not capable of final solution. If they do not agree together there is no international event which could not become an international problem."

This is so because, to put it bluntly, these three powers represent an all-round strength which is capable of enforcing their united wills. Their geographical positions and their resources make this certain. This may change in the course of time, but that's the way it is now.

If this seems like exaggeration, just stop and check the global set-up. Before this war the great powers of Europe were: Russia, Germany, France, Italy and Britain. France and Italy are down and out physically if not in spirit. Italy bids fair to lose her rank of first-class power altogether, and poor France will retain it in name only for long years to come. Germany's fate remains to be seen, but the Reich most certainly will be rendered impotent to make war, and may even be split up once more into its component states.

Out in the Orient the Japanese ability to make war is most certainly being crushed, and the Mikado's empire is going to be torn apart. Rich Manchuria, which Japan might have held if her savage greed had not impelled her to invade China, is going to be taken away. So will Korea, the many mandated islands which the League of Nations awarded her, and the vast territories which she has overrun.

China, who was just getting started in her new democratic way of life when Japan attacked her, has a brilliant future—but the brilliance is definitely of the future. It will take her years to

65,000 Men Added
To Canadian Army;
55,188 Called Up

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Army has increased its strength by almost 65,000 since the start of the year and appears in sight of a previously announced goal of 100,000 additional personnel for the 1943-44 fiscal year, despite recent declines in monthly recruiting figures.

Figures made available today show intake both as general service volunteers and on compulsory call-up for home defence dropping month by month from January to September, the last month for which recruiting returns have been compiled.

Here are the monthly totals for 1943 to date with totals of volunteers followed by those recovered from the damage wrought by the barbaric invaders, develop her resources and overcome tremendous internal political difficulties. Meantime, the dominant influences in Asia will be that same Big Three.

Thus the main concern of the world at large now is that the Big Three have indeed reached the stage of mutual trust and co-operation.

called up in parentheses: January 10,848 (6,140), February 8,247 (4,494), March 7,003 (3,692), April 5,909 (3,325), May 5,672 (2,943), June 4,581 (2,567), July 4,488 (2,570), August 4,020 (1,961), September 4,420 (1,910), totals 55,188 (29,602).

13,500 CWACS

The totals include both men and women. The C.W.A.C., which now has a strength of more than 13,500, takes on an average of between 400 and 500 per month.

Thus, the total intake for nine months was 84,790 but against this there were discharges numbering 25,774, of which 4,564 were for home defence troops volunteering for general service leaving net discharges of 21,210 and a net intake for the nine months of 63,570.

Defence Minister Ralston said in the House of Commons earlier this year the army would require 100,000 men in the fiscal year which started last April 1—75,000 for overseas and 25,000 for Canada. Some were to come from reduction of the army establishment in Canada, such as has already been effected or is in progress, and the rest from recruiting.

Canadians Still Favor
Sending Draftees Overseas

TORONTO—While the Dominion government has not yet initiated conscription for overseas military service, the majority of people in Canada continue to favor such a move.

Present day opinion on the issue was polled throughout Canada as follows:

"If you were asked to vote today on the question of conscription for overseas service, would you vote for it or against it?"

While findings in the present survey show a slight drop in sentiment favoring drafting men for duty overseas, as compared to a poll taken three months ago, the favorable vote remains today as great as it was shown to be right after Pearl Harbor.

Moreover, some basis for the drop can probably be found resulting from present optimism about the way the war is going in Europe. Increasing numbers may now feel that the need to conscript men for overseas duty is past.

Here is the vote as of today: For, 57 per cent; against, 38 per cent; undecided, 7 per cent.

At the same time, the present survey emphasizes the general stability of opinion on the issue since 1941. At no time since the Gallup Poll first began polling on this question has opposition to conscription for overseas duty fluctuated more than five points, varying between 32 and 37 per cent. The favorable vote during the same period has never fluctuated more than 10 points.

QUEBEC BALKS AS USUAL

As has been consistently the case in all polls taken on the question, opinion in the province of Quebec remains overwhelmingly opposed to drafting men for duty overseas. The figures below show the sharp contrast between opinion in Quebec and that in the rest of the provinces:

For	Against	Undecided
Quebec	17%	81%
All Other Provinces	57%	41%

One of the interesting sidelights in today's survey is that more young people are now opposed to overseas conscription than are in favor of it. Favorable sentiment among this group has actually taken a six-point drop since August. Part of the drop may be accounted for by the fact that voters in this age bracket—21 to 29 years—are now predominantly women, who are less favorable to the idea of overseas conscription than are men. Part of it may be accounted for on the basis of prevailing optimism about the way the war is going.

Here is a table showing the vote on the question by age groups:

Age Group	For	Against	Undecided
21 to 29 years	44%	55%	1%
30 to 39 years	55%	43%	2%
40 and over	61%	37%	2%

In this connection, it should be pointed out, however, that the drop in favorable vote on the question does not concentrate in any one age group. The vote of those 30 to 39 years of age was, in the August poll, 62 per cent in favor, four points higher than today. Those 50 years and over voted 67 per cent in favor in August, or six points higher than in today's poll.

WHEN AN ARMY COLUMN ADVANCES into enemy territory, mobile anti-aircraft units move with it. When enemy dive bombers or strafing planes appear, these Bofors guns go into action on the spot. While the infantry scatter and take cover, and blaze away at the enemy planes with rifles and machine guns, the Ack-Acks "shoot the works".

Less than one minute after the first warning, the gun is unlimbered from its tractor, and is hurling two shells a second at the hostile planes. Then, as soon as the danger is over, the gun limbers up again and moves forward with the column. Frequently too, this high velocity gun is called upon to knock out enemy tanks with armor piercing shells.

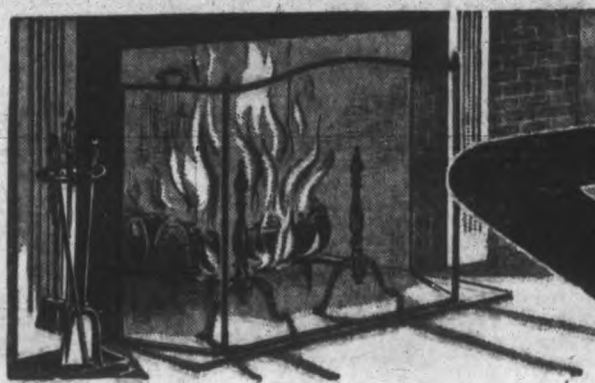

The artillery tractor which hauls the Bofors anti-aircraft gun over bomb-pocked roads wherever our troops are operating, is just one of more than 50 types of battle vehicles now being built by Ford of Canada's craftsmen. Rugged, sure-footed, and powered by the Ford V-8 engine, it is built to stand up under the toughest service, and to get its gun where it is needed without fail.

Why deny yourself comfort NOW! The present spring under-construction is both comfortable and durable. It compares quite favorably with prewar construction.

True, spring-filled cushions are "out for the duration," but spring units can easily be fitted to present cushions, at the cost of only a few dollars, whenever additional steel is available.

The present importance of "full spring construction" is both exaggerated and exploited. You can buy, with confidence, from Spencer's large and selective stock, at prices that will assist every wartime budget.

New 'Wrenig'

This natty new number is properly entitled a "Wrenig" because it will soon be piped as "rig of the day" for all Canadian Wrens on duty. Of stiffened navy blue flannel, the beret adds that extra something to the uniform of navy blue jacket and skirt, which is also going through some streamlining at present and will soon be issued in smarter style. Usual black silk hat ribbon, or trolley-band, will be worn on the sailor hat, with the gold letters "H.M.C.S." Ready in the next month or two, will be worn on duty by all Wren ratings; commissioned Wren officers and petty officers will wear tricornes.

Tiddley Tricorne

This new walking-out topper will be issued in a few weeks to all ratings in the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service. A becoming, feminine type of hat, the tricorne in velour has been worn by Wren officers with commissioned badge, and will be worn by ratings in black felt for off-duty hours, formal parades and other specified occasions as their No. 1 uniform. Ratings tricornes will bear the traditional black silk trolley-band or hat ribbon with the gold letters "H.M.C.S." at the front.

Weddings

CAMPBELL—HANNIGAN

A wedding gown of cream brocade silk, fashioned with a bouffant skirt billowing from a tightly-fitted bodice having a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, was chosen by Violet Louise (Buntly), Hannigan, for her marriage this afternoon at 2 in St. Mary's Church, to Lieut. John Hunter Campbell, R.C.N.V.R.

The bride is the only daughter of Capt. and Mrs. J. G. Hannigan, Duncan, and the groom, the younger son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Campbell, Toronto. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns read the service and F. T. C. Wickett played the wedding music. "Through the Years," while the bride party was in the vestry.

A Juliet cap of gardenias held the long full veil of the bride and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and gardenias. She was given away by her father. Twin floor-length frocks of pastel blue and pink jersey respectively were worn by Miss Lorna Archer Houlton and Miss Barbara Whittam. Miss Miriam Stuer was frocked in pale yellow, and all three attendants wore coronets of fresh flowers in their hair. The carried Colonial bouquets of pink and mauve carnations and chrysanthemums centred with a gardenia. Lieut. Arthur Johnson, R.C.N.V.R., was groomsmen, and Sgt. L. J. Flaherty, R.C.A.F., and Lieut. J. D. Davis, R.C.N.V.R., ushers.

Over 150 guests were welcomed to the reception held in the lounge of the Empress Hotel, among whom were Lieut. and Mrs. P. F. Thornton, Miss Mary V. Watson, Miss Margaret Watson, Miss Anne Whittam, Miss Eve Brooks, all of Vancouver; and many friends from Duncan. Lieut. and Mrs. Campbell left on the afternoon plane for Vancouver, en route to Halifax, where they will reside. For traveling the bride wore an Allice blue wool suit, matching hat, brown accessories and camel hair topcoat.

SHADE—SLUGGETT

Sluggett Memorial Church was the scene of the marriage Friday evening of Phyllis Esther, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sluggett, Brentwood Bay, and William Clarence (Buster) Shade, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shade, Sidney, B.C., grandson of the late William Jackson, druggist of Victoria. Rev. R. H. Sanderwick officiated and Mrs. Claude Sluggett sang "Love Divine," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon frock of aqua marine crepe, with a sweetheart neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. Her accessories were brown, and her corsage bouquet composed of gardenias and pink roses. Miss Myrtle Sluggett was her sister's only attendant, wearing a two-piece ensemble of rose silk crepe, brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Robert (Bud) Shade was groomsmen, and ushers were W. Connarcon and R. Knott.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Norman Parsell proposed the toast to the bride.

After a honeymoon on the mainland, for which the bride donned a fur coat over her wedding outfit, Mr. and Mrs. Shade will reside in Sidney.

Y.M.C.A. Auxiliary Holds Annual Tea

Many friends and supporters of the Y.M.C.A. were entertained Friday, when Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary annual membership tea was held, netting $140 to their funds for extra furnishings.

Mrs. George Brown, assisted by Mrs. R. B. Horton, welcomed the guests in the flower-filled lounge, decorations for which were arranged by Mrs. Edwin Tomlin, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew and Mrs. R. B. Horton.

Presiding at a table gay with gourds and autumn fruit were Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., Mrs. B. S. Heisterman, Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. George Biddle and Mrs. W. T. Straith.

Tea arrangements were conceived by Mrs. J. V. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. S. Winterbottom, Mrs. A. Dixon and Mrs. S. Clack. Vocal and instrumental solos formed a musical program, artists contributing including Gnr. Chas. Hovey, baritone, accompanied by Mrs. Keys; Miss Peggy Moore, with Mrs. G. A. McCurdy; Miss Jean Dumerton, Miss Marie Vowles, violinists, and John Beckwith, pianist.

Mrs. Brown introduced two speakers, Mr. W. T. Straith, who said that 250,000 men of the forces had used "Y" facilities last year, and Frank Paulding, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

War badges were presented at the close of the afternoon to all who have given so generously of their time during the past year. Mrs. McArdie and Mrs. W. T. Straith made the presentation.

Personals

Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward and their daughter, Mrs. Glen McDonald will return from Vancouver to Government House Sunday morning. Wednesday afternoon, His Honor and Mrs. Woodward will be hosts to about 200 blind guests.

New Recipe for Marmalade

MRS. CUTHBERT HOLMES

There will be plenty of marmalade in the home of Mrs. Cuthbert Holmes, 336 Newport Avenue, this winter and all because she has an original recipe.

"The whole thing is a by-product," she says. "I use apple juice made from windfalls and peelings from the skins of oranges or whatever fruit we've had for breakfast. Two cups of apple juice to one cup of skins makes our marmalade now."

This year's rings were a problem to Mrs. Holmes, who found that on an average only two out of 12 were all right. Most of the fruit had to be done over and the second time she boiled it for much longer till the rings finally stuck.

This year she canned salmon for the first time and also tomato and grape juice, neither of which required any sugar. Other bottles which line her basement shelves contain raspberries, strawberries, blackberries, peaches, pears and blackberry, quince, apple and grape jelly.

For small fruits, such as strawberries and raspberries, Mrs. Holmes has a recipe used by her mother, the late Mrs. F. B. Pemberton, and guaranteed to save sugar. One cup of sugar is used to four of water and the canning process takes two hours at a temperature of 160 degrees. In comparison present sugar saving recipes give one cup of sugar to just two or three of water.

Patterson, Seattle; Mrs. J. M. Ross, Vancouver; Mr. C. A. Peterson, Beverly Hills, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Coleman, Seattle; Mrs. Robert Rathborn, Los Angeles, Cal.; Lieut. and Mrs. Arthur Douglas, White Plains, New York; Lieut. and Mrs. Carl Hadlock, Olympia, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. L. Duilaghan, Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. George Bradley, Spokane, Wash.; and Mr. Donald M. Ross, Toronto, are guests at the Empress Hotel.

In honor of Miss Marjorie Breckenridge whose marriage will take place shortly, Miss Helen Peden entertained the girls of the office of Scott and Peden Ltd., at her home, McClure Street, with a linen shower. The guests included: Mesdames L. Stonier, E. Marsh, J. Peden, and the Misses Theima Van Dyke, Pat Ballam, Elsie Draper, Kay Carson, Ruth Turner, Mildred Webb, Ruth Burdage, Margaret Morry, Victoria Rodman, Jessie Goddard, Viola Smith, Florence Gordon, Doris Hunt, Joyce Wallace, Margaret Horne, Denise Thompson and Adele Howard.

Mrs. W. H. Muncy entertained the W.M.S. Presbyterial executive at tea at her home on Blackwood Street, in honor of Miss Gertrude Boorman, who is leaving to take a position on the staff of the Bella Bella hospital. Other guests included members of evening auxiliaries and mission circles. Miss Grace Baker, candidate secretary, introduced the guest of honor, who is a recent graduate of Royal Jubilee Hospital, and has been a life-long member and worker of Williston Road United Church. On behalf of those present, Mrs. W. J. Graham presented her with a thermometer set and surgical scissors. Mrs. W. H. Gibson and Mrs. Wm. Allen, who are familiar with the work at Bella Bella Hospital, also spoke. Mrs. Geo. Guy and Mrs. W. J. Graham presided at the tea table, and assisting in serving were Miss Margaret Lawrie and Miss Mary Peat. Mrs. E. Boorman, mother of Miss Boorman, was also an honored guest.

Grizzly bears, now found only in remote places in the Rockies, once were found from the Great Plains area westward to the coast.

Noted Historian Tells Colorful Story Of Canada's Birth

Canada nearly became a kingdom, Lieut. Cmdr. F. Graham, professor of history at Queen's University, now on loan to the Royal Navy, told the Women's Canadian Club Friday when he addressed them at the Empress Hotel ballroom on the "Making of a Nation's Unity."

"Macdonald wanted the provinces to become the kingdom of Canada, but—Britain feared the Republican susceptibilities of the Yankees on the border," he said during his lecture which, as he himself pointed out, contained many contentious issues embraced in 80 years of Canadian history.

From the time of the finding of gold on the Fraser River forcing the creation of a new colony, British Columbia, to the time during the Great War, "when Canada became of age," Cmdr. Graham sketched the political and economic progress of the Dominion.

Responsibility of populating and developing the early colony fell on the shoulders of Macdonald, whom the speaker referred to as the "chief architect of the Dominion, neither idealist or theorist, but supreme strategist."

Laurier's task was to give the country individuality; after the great war, the problem was the right of freedom.

"In the present day and for the future, our chief task is to resist disintegration from within," Cmdr. Graham concluded.

Mrs. F. G. Aldous presided. Earlier in the afternoon, Miss Sara Spencer, president of the Victoria Symphony Society, urged members to support the musical talent of the city, and file membership during the coming membership drive.

Mrs. Fred Pollard convener of the bridge tea to be held Nov. 23 at the tea-room above the Oak Bay Theatre, announced that proceeds would go to the Women's Canadian Club Bursary Fund.

Federal Taxes Hold B.C.E.R. From '5.8 Fair Return Rate'

Federal government taxation reduced the net returns of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, affiliates and subsidiaries in 1942 to a point $480,246 below the maximum permissible under the "fair rate of return" of 5.8 per cent, according to the report of the Public Utilities Commission released by Premier John Hart today.

"During 1942 the excess of revenue over the cost of operation was $1,635,766. Total income and excess profits taxes amounted to $3,803,477, of which $1,687,463 was included in the company's operating expenses. That left a balance of $2,116,012 to be paid to the Dominion government and created a deficit on the 5.8 per cent fair rate of return amounting to $480,246.

In effect, the result of the taxation was to allow the company a return of 5.2 per cent on a depreciated rate base instead of the 5.8 per cent set by the commission as a fair return.

"Fair and reasonable return," said the report at one point, "is calculated on a rate base, which includes the appraised value of the property and the amount of money necessary to carry on the business of the utility, namely, the working capital."

Dealing with appraised value, the report notes submissions were made to the commission that exchange value or the price of a property in an open market is the concept to follow.

"Exchange value," the report says in part, "is based on the earning capacity of the property, but in the case of a regulated public utility the earning capacity is fixed by the decision of the regulatory body. Therefore, the exchange value cannot be used for the purposes of regulation."

The Legislature, the report said, emphasized the actual and reasonable expenditure in the undertaking; or, in other words, the historic cost and prudent investment as the dominant elements of value, while leaving the importance or bearing of any other facts on that value, entirely to the judgment of the commission.

VALUATION YARDSTICK

On that basis the commission came to the conclusion the fairest measure of value to be used in the appraisal was "the cost of the present utility when prudently invested, less depreciation."

Noting users could not expect service below cost, the report said, under public ownership, part of costs might be secured by taxation. Under private ownership the entire cost must be paid by the consumer.

Touching on approaches to the question in submission to the commission, the report says: "The extensive calculations made by Prof. Farr are not pertinent."

Prof. E. S. Farr of Victoria College, with the assistance of Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor, presented Victoria's case.

Nor, it adds, are Oak Bay's submissions of value, since they are based on a comparison which has "little or nothing in common" with the appraisal question.

Also discounted are company submissions on reproduction costs.

"Reproduction cost has not been generally accepted by authorities in the United States," the report states.

"The companies' claim to an increment of value because of the rise in price of material and labor cannot apply in a valuation for regulatory purposes," says the report, noting the province or local governing body could provide its own service and replace service costs to provide the same service would be a better criterion.

The companies' claim for $8,000,000 development costs was rejected as not being an element in cost of service, although it might be considered in valuation for sale. Likewise the company's claim for "going concern value" was dismissed.

In cases where utility plant acquisition adjustments represent prudent investments which were necessary or advisable from the standpoint of public interest, they should be included in the rate base.

With respect to property acquired but not now used, the commission held its value should not be included in the rate base appraisal unless it is indicated such property will be used in the near future. Property not prudently acquired was not included.

B.C. Electric Investigation Made Public Utility History

Investigation by the Public Utilities Commission of the rates and service of the B.C. Electric Railway Company made public utility history in Canada.

Nothing similar has ever been done in this country before. There was no precedent for the commission to follow. Without a doubt, according to experts, the investigation has been the most complicated, thorough and difficult in the history of public utility regulation.

Says the report: "The case has no near parallel in the history of public utility regulation. The number of separate corporations involved, the number and diversity of the services rendered, and the number and extent of the communities covered, make the case quite unique."

BACK TO 1860

"Since the first of these utility services was inaugurated in 1860, 55 incorporated companies have had a part. Of these some 29 are still in existence and 17 of them have been the subject of this inquiry. Five distinct services are being given in 30 municipalities and 12 other communities."

"Three municipally-owned utilities have been absorbed. These companies, services and communities are inextricably interlocked. Their transformation into units, as required by the act, has been a major task. There has been no precedent for this work in the annals of regulatory bodies on this continent. There is no broad road for the commission to follow. Each step in the intricate analysis of the involved information available had to be pioneered. The case before the commission presented features which have not appeared in any cases on record."

Investigation of the B.C. Electric and preparation of the 54-page report, with numerous tables and schedules, is the commission's biggest job to date and has been watched with interest all across Canada and in many parts of the United States.

First report went to the government in July of this year and the second a few days ago. Premier Hart and his cabinet colleagues have had many long meetings with Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the commission, so that they might question him and gain from him a thorough understanding of the contents of the weighty, complicated volume, which has led to the gift of electricity for two months in Victoria and a month in Vancouver.

Object of the investigation was to ascertain the cost of giving the various services so that a rate could be established which is reasonable to the consumers and to the company. Value is based on historic cost and prudent investment.

The commission is a statutory body and in making the investigation was bound by the authority given to it under the Public Utilities Act.

This act was passed by the Legislature in December, 1938, and the commission was appointed by the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council two months later, with Dr. Carrothers, of the economics faculty at U.B.C. as chairman, other members being L. W. Patmore and J. C. MacDonald. They still comprise the board.

Commission engineers started their investigation of the B.C. Electric at the end of 1939 and public hearings were later held by the commission in Victoria, Port Alberni, Vancouver, New Westminster and Kamloops, from August 1942 to January 1943. The commission sat for 40 days and later read between 4,000 and 5,000 pages of evidence and studied hundreds of exhibits.

The investigation has cost about $160,000 and the B.C. Electric Railway Co. is paying it.

ion of its chief engineer to the effect the depreciation reserve set up by the companies is real and sufficient.

"The total undepreciated historic cost ($109,589,499) less the total depreciation reserve is $71,045,071," the commission finds, noting the figures are reached for no other purpose than that of regulation under the "Public Utilities Act."

Working capital was fixed, for rate purposes, at $2,872,000, the companies' higher figure being disallowed.

In some detail the report analyzes an interest credit plan and explains a simpler formula is being used.

Rate of return, the commission finds, is based on the actual cost of money to the utility, not the nominal rate, but the effective rate actually paid by the holding company to secure money. Donations, non-interest bearing customers' funds, accumulation of unpaid taxes, etc., are without cost to the company and are not included. The weighted average of the interest actually paid or determined by the commission in the case of reserves has been established as the rate of return on the rate base. This, together with an allowance for the equity of the common stockholders, was worked out at 5.8 per cent.

The report sets out the fair rate of return for each distinct class of service, states that excess profits tax cannot be allowed as a cost of operation.

CANNOT BE IMPLEMENTED

The deductions from the revenue of a public utility company under the Income and Excess Profits Tax Acts leave the utility in this case an amount insufficient to meet the 5.8 per cent fair rate of return in spite of the fact net revenues for 1942 exceeded those of 1941 by $1,400,000 the report states, adding:

"Until some change is made in the Dominion regulations it will be impossible to implement the intent of the Public Utilities Act in the above respect. Any increase in net revenue is appropriated by the federal government and is of no benefit to the utility."

The report sets out the fair rate of return for each distinct class of service, states that excess profits tax cannot be allowed as a cost of operation.

The deductions from the revenue of a public utility company under the Income and Excess Profits Tax Acts leave the utility in this case an amount insufficient to meet the 5.8 per cent fair rate of return in spite of the fact net revenues for 1942 exceeded those of 1941 by $1,400,000 the report states, adding:

"Until some change is made in the Dominion regulations it will be impossible to implement the intent of the Public Utilities Act in the above respect. Any increase in net revenue is appropriated by the federal government and is of no benefit to the utility."

The commission is a statutory body and in making the investigation was bound by the authority given to it under the Public Utilities Act.

Civil Defence Units Carry Out Practices

Tactical and gas exercises were carried out in districts 10 and 11 Friday night in tests viewed by civil defence officers and Mayor Andrew McGavin, who said he found keen enthusiasm among all civil defence workers.

In the party inspecting posts and points in the two districts with Mayor McGavin were Insp. A. H. Bishop, Victoria controller; Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, chief warden, and Dr. E. W. Boak, medical officer.

District 10 exercise was directed by G. W. Russell, district warden, and F. L. Anscombe, deputy. The No. 1 bomb disposal squad of the R.C.E. took part under Lieut. E. Warburton and Sgt. A. W. Evans.

Auxiliary firemen, one crew under R. Hawes, and bomb disposal squads under Col. F. G. Hood and Barrie Gould, also took part in the test. Casualties were treated at St. James Douglas School by the St. John Ambulance Brigade and nursing division. Boy Scouts acted as casualties and messengers.

Fairfield United Church rest centre was in operation.

G. A. A. Hebdon, district warden, was in charge of the district 11 practice, which centred on gas casualties treated at the incident scenes and at Margaret Jenkins School.

Lt.-Gen. E. C. Ashton, first aid services officer; Dr. C. S. Beals, provincial gas officer, and Mr. Hebdon gave addresses at the end of the test.

R.C.A.F. Recruits

Frederick Thomas Bourne, 137 Eberts Street; Herbert William Davies, 2203 Fernwood Road; Kenneth Fraser Smith, 537 Burnside Road; John Alexander Patterson, 1325 Pembroke Street, and Edwin Ralph Morton of Crofton, V.I., were among recruits recently enlisting at No. 1 R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre, Vancouver.

Oranges, Grapefruit To Be Plentiful

Grapefruit in quantity by Dec. 1 and oranges in quantity by Dec. 10 is the promise held out by one Yates Street wholesaler today.

Already the grapefruit famine is beginning to wane, although only slightly, for shipments are arriving but they are small and not nearly sufficient to meet the city's demand.

"By December and maybe by the last week in November there will be plenty of grapefruit for everybody. It is coming in regular, though small shipments now, from California, Florida and Texas," the wholesaler said.

There have been no orange shipments this week and a small shipment is expected the end of next week. The new crop will begin rolling shortly and by Dec. 10 the forecast from Yates Street is "lots of oranges."

Good news was also forthcoming from the California Fruit Growers' Exchange which claimed that the 1944 crop of California navel oranges was estimated to be 33 per cent, or 5,000,000 boxes, larger than last year. Shipping authorities do not expect the extra volume will satisfy completely the demand for oranges but will help to correct a condition of shortage that has been a headache to both consumer and producer, according to the Growers' Exchange.

Apples from the Okanagan are scarce at the moment, though shipments are arriving every other day. Apples are expected to be short throughout the season, with wholesalers not receiving sufficient supplies to meet the demand. Most popular varieties at the moment are the Delicious and McIntoshes.

Housewives wishing to make quince jelly were urged to get their locally-grown quince now.

The average time for transit through the Suez Canal, 101 miles long is 11 hours 31 minutes.

THE MANUFACTURE OF CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR

is being INCREASED and EXTENDED

To meet the increased demands for all lines of children's underwear, plans were developed last summer with the manufacturers for stepping up production to the maximum and continuing it through the winter months. In normal times production is discontinued in the Fall, and most retailers receive the bulk of their supplies before winter sets in.

To facilitate the increased production, arrangements were made for appropriate supplies of yarns and other raw materials. Production quotas were worked out with manufacturers to make full use of the looms and equipment that can turn out these goods in Canada.

The extended production schedule will bring a continuing supply of new goods to retail stores during the winter.

Military needs as well as increased civilian requirements have put enormous strains on Canada's knit goods industry. The public is asked to co-operate by spreading its buying of children's underwear over the season.

'On Being a Real Person' By Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick

To Be a Real Person, We Must Do Something About Ourselves

THE central business of every human being is to be a real person. We possess by nature the factors out of which personality can be made, and to organize them into effective personal life is every man's primary responsibility. To be sure, the word "personality" has accumulated many meanings.

When Daniel Webster walked down State Street in Boston, business was temporarily suspended while people rushed to the doors and windows to see him pass, and to the popular imagination he seemed to take up half the street. Such impressiveness, in common parlance called "personality," is a priceless gift, but to consider its achievement man's main business would be preposterous.

UNIFIED PERSONALITY

If all goes well, the normal infant grows up to be a self-conscious organism with capacities for memory, thoughtfulness, purposefulness, and affection, and being thus a person, man is unique in the universe. An organism, conscious of its own being, that can remember, think, purpose and love, is personal. While these attributes in a rudimentary degree are possessed by animals, in man they have attained a development differentiating him from everything else. While we are presented at birth with the makings of a personal life, their successful organization into unified and efficient personality is one of the most difficult, as it is the most essential task in human experience.

In confronting this task, man is the only creature that can consciously help to create itself. The fulfillment of the possibilities of its species may be the primary function of a seedling tree, but the tree is unaware of that fact and cannot deliberately co-operate. We are not simply creatures; we are self-creators. As Wordsworth put it, "So build we up the being that we are."

HEREDITARY LEAST IMPORTANT

"Of all animals," writes Prof. William Ernest Hocking, "it is man in whom heredity counts for least, and conscious building forces for most. . . . Other creatures nature could largely finish; the human creature must finish himself."

Human happiness is at stake in the success or failure of this undertaking. No external good fortune can bring abiding enjoyment to a half-made unorganized personality. Without exaggeration it can be said that frustrated, disintegrated, inhibited, unhappy people, who cannot match themselves with life and become efficient personalities, constitute the greatest single tragedy in the world.

Wars come and go; economic circumstances alter with time and place; natural handicaps and catastrophes, inherent in human existence, fall with varying incidence on everyone; social inequalities are cruel to some, and inherited prosperity ruins others; but through every situation in this variegated scene, in mansion and hovel, war and peace, wealth and penury, domestic felicity and discord, among the uneducated and in university faculties, an omnipresent calamity is found, strangely impartial in its choice of victims.

SUSTAINING PERSONALITY
Under every kind of circumstance people are entrusted with personality, unable to escape it, but incapable of managing it, are making a mess of it, and are thereby plunging into an earthly hell.

This statement involves no underrating of the importance of external conditions; yet happiness is never caused by circumstance alone and is often created despite it. A well-integrated person, supported by a sustaining philosophy, organized around worth-while purposes, can capitalize adversity and can even be "frustrated into sublimity." Such a person, however, must start with life's primary datum—that we have ourselves on our hands, and that the most determining factor in our experience is that hour by hour we are getting to be we. From other facts we may run away, but after every conscious or unconscious manoeuvre escape, we find ourselves back where we started, with ourselves on our hands. Every circuitous alley of evasion brings us back to life's central demand, with our beatitude or misery dependent on our response to it: Be a real person.

Sound Health Not Essential To Being a Real Person

THREE factors enter into the building of personality: heredity, environment, and personal response. The importance of the first two we take for granted; they rigorously limit the control of the individual over his own life.

As Oscar Ameringer puts it: "Except that I inherited certain characteristics from an unknown number of unknown ancestors, I was born, and shaped by circumstances over which I had no control. I am a self-made man." Life consists not simply in this heredity and environment do to us, but in what we make out of what they do to us.

One of the clearest illustrations of this fact is found in the very place where its discovery might seem most difficult. At no point do heredity and environment impinge on us so intimately as in our own physical organisms. Some ills of the body, such as certain glandular diseases, can utterly disrupt the person. We are psycho-physical organisms, and as a building site profoundly influences the size and kind of house that can be built upon it, so the body limits or expands the possibilities of the personality associated with it. Yet even in this most interior impact of inheritance and circumstance on personal life an astonishing prevalence of disorganized and sprawling personalities with sound bodies, and consummate personalities with handicapped bodies, confronts the observer.

OUR PHYSICAL MASK

Man's inner self is rooted in the body. To be sure, the personal faculties—mind, memory, hope, affection, purpose—belong in a realm unseeable, intangible, nonmetric. A man sees not his friend but only the outward integument, the physical mask that at once conceals and reveals him. A man never sees himself; no mirror or fluoroscope can make visible that mysterious centre of psychic activity which is the real person. Yet this inner self, invisible though it is, so interlarded with, dependent on, and influenced by the body, that no discrimination is fine enough to tell where the one ends and the other begins.

The roster of the world's real persons is astonishingly inconsiderate of sound physical health. Charles Darwin, as he himself said, "almost continually unwell"; Robert Louis Stevenson, with his tuberculosis; Helen Keller, blind and deaf; Stanton Kirkham, bedridden for 25 years, yet saying: "As the most barren regions of the earth yield something to the botanist and the geologist, the most desolate aspects of life are not wholly without interest to the philosopher."

Innumerable people, counting ill health no reprieve from the primary demand to be real persons, find abiding satisfaction and achieve admirable personal life despite calamitous physical conditions.

RESPONSE ALWAYS PERSONAL

Things act under the influence of stimuli; they may even be said to react to stimuli, but persons can respond. Reaction is mechanical, while response is personal, and the endeavors of materialists to reduce the latter to the former are unconvincing because in actual experience the two are so radically different. Billiard balls react, persons can do more. A sneeze is a reaction, but the triumphant answers which some personalities make to life's difficult situations cannot be convincingly subsumed under such a category. Socrates' reply to his judges was not a sneeze but a response.

Whatever may be the evolutionary relationship between bodily reaction and personal response, they are now in practical experience so widely diverse that to identify them is to obscure one of the most significant contrasts in human life. Sir Walter Scott and Lord Byron both were lame, but they took it differently. Sir Walter lived a radiant life, while a friend said of Lord Byron: "He brooded over that blemish as sensitive minds will brood until they magnify a wart into a wen. His lameness certainly helped to make him skeptical, cynical and savage." If this capacity to confront life with a distinctive personal rejoinder is thus evident even in that most intimate realm where heredity and environment impinge upon us in our physical organisms, we may certainly expect to find it everywhere else.

Fosdick and His Book

DR. FOSDICK, pastor of Riverside Church, New York, stands out in the popular mind as a great preacher, but it is not generally known that for 20 years he has been consulted by thousands of persons with problems, many of which have no relation to religion. Thousands more wrote to him for help during his 15 years of radio broadcasts. Out of this vast experience came his book, "On Being a Real Person."

Dr. Fosdick explains that 20 years ago when he first announced definite conference hours for people to talk over their individual problems, he soon found he had undertaken more than he bargained for. "Having received my education in pre-physiocratic days when the academic study of psychology was very dry and formal discipline and such matters as mental therapy, so far as I recall, were never even mentioned in college or seminary, I was utterly untrained for personal counseling," Dr. Fosdick writes in an introduction to the book. "Some cases, of course, ordinary good sense could deal with, and some were concerned with familiar problems of religious faith, but there were many others, the like of which I had not even known existed, whose genesis and diagnosis I could not guess, and before which I stood helpless, fearing, rightly that I might do more harm than good."

NOTED DOCTOR AIDED HIM
Realizing he must have help, Dr. Fosdick consulted his friend, Dr. Thomas W. Salmon, then the leading pioneer in the field of mental hygiene. He tells how Dr. Salmon aided him in case after case, with his diagnoses and therapies, adding that Dr. Salmon "opened a new world" to him. "When I undertook the pastorate at the Riverside Church, Dr. Salmon and I hoped to have a clinic there, where," he writes, "the resources of medical science and Christian ministry would be combined in the help of troubled minds, but his untimely death prevented the plan's fruition. Since then I have constantly utilized the increasing resources of psychiatric service in New York. 'I have never been able to give myself to this work as I once dreamed I might, but a steady stream of troubled minds and disturbed emotions seeking help has willy-nilly kept me at it, and nothing in my ministry gives me more satisfaction now than the memory of some of the results."

WHY BOOK WAS WRITTEN

More than once in writing the book, Dr. Fosdick said, he asked himself for whom the book was being written. He gives this reply in the introduction:

"I have pictured its readers in terms of the many, diverse individuals who have come to me for help. Here I have tried to set down what I have seen going on inside real people, have endeavored to describe their familiar mental and emotional maladies, their alibis and rationalizations, their ingenious, unconscious tricks of evasion and escape, their handling of fear, anxiety, guilt, and humiliation, their compensations and sublimations also, and the positive faiths and resources from which I have seen help come. As I look over my manuscript, I see that I have gone on trying to be a personal counselor in this book, habitually thinking, as I wrote, of the typical individuals who have consulted me. They make up a fascinating company, and this book is altogether for them."

"So for what it may be worth, here is the story of what one minister has found out about people's 'insides' and what can be done about them."

Christmas Cheer For British Children

For the third successive year, the Queen's Canadian Fund is conducting a special appeal for money to send Christmas cheer to British children.

In Britain, the scheme is being organized by the Lord Mayor's Fund. There will be no administrative expenses deducted, either in Canada or the United Kingdom. The money subscribed will be devoted in its entirety to the cause.

Last year the fund's Christmas appeal subscriptions exceeded $25,000. The happiness brought to thousands of British children is described in a recent report sent from London to the Queen's Canadian Fund by Maj. Ben T. Tinton.

He writes: "I was present at many of the Christmas festivities for children of the badly-bombed areas that were organized by the Lord Mayor's Fund last Christmas, and I can vouch for the tremendous happiness of those children who had lived through such sad and difficult days, who had spent so many nights in shelters, and who had received so little happiness since the war started."

Reconstruction and the Land

By FRED W. DAVEY

There has recently been added to the Public Library a book with the above title by Sir A. D. Hall, a scientist with practical experience in farming and a student of sociology.

Respecting land ownership he states that sense of responsibility has largely disappeared from such to the detriment of agriculture and the nation; that the desire to obtain speculative values from land is disturbing the whole agriculture set-up. Further, that necessary work to protect portions of the British coast from erosion has been blocked through the selfish attitude of private owners of lands adjacent, and that the same cause blocks systematic policies for full utilization of the rivers. Had the state, he contends, taken over the land served by the new highways in Great Britain the increased value of such land due to these highways would have paid for their construction. He is convinced that land ownership has now become merely a means of profit.

He is very critical of the policy of obtaining adequate prices for agricultural products through marketing boards, stating such prices are based on high costs of farming unsuitable land and of inefficient methods; that the interests of the consumer are neglected; that these high prices tend to maintain costly and inefficient methods; that the quota method restricts production and creates property values at the expense of the community. He urges instead of restricting production, increased consumption should be the objective, recognizing, of course, that in war control of production and consumption are necessary. He recommends the nationalization of land as necessary to full and best utilization, and necessary in planning for postwar social betterment. Apparently he does not realize that the situation can be met through taxation of land values without resorting to nationalization. However, this book is timely and will repay careful reading as the principles, policies and conditions referred to have a bearing on the situation in this province.

Gardens in November

PARK POTATOES

People have been wondering what happened to all the potatoes the city grew on the Heywood Avenue section of Beacon Hill Park.

City Parks Superintendent W. H. Warren says the city grew about 20 tons on a little more than two acres there; three tons were sent to the Aged Men's Home for table use and about 18 tons have been stored for seed next spring.

"We are trying to safeguard the backyard gardener, and make sure he will be able to get his seed potatoes," Mr. Warren said, adding it is his department's intention to grow even more potatoes next year and keep up the program as long as the war lasts, with resultant shortages in potatoes and other vegetables.

CAULIFLOWER

Many small farmers are going in for growing cauliflower seed, spurred on by reports in midsummer that seed of this vegetable was bringing $18 a pound, as it did last year. But the story of growing cauliflower seed is not as rosy as it sounds, for as production increases the price of the seed drops.

Production, however, is increasing by leaps and bounds, especially on Vancouver Island and in the vicinity of Greater Victoria. Last year cauliflower seed was worth about $14,000; this year it is expected to reach between $40,000 and $50,000.

W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist, said this week that southern Vancouver Island is ideally suited to growing cauliflower seed, provided water for adequate irrigation can be obtained. These seeds will also be among the more expensive ones and will yield good returns, but will not make the fortune for the grower that one may expect because they brought $18 a pound last year. Until war started most of Canada's cauliflower seed came from Holland and Denmark.

CLEAN-UP TIME

DURING NOVEMBER in the garden the bulk of the cleaning up should be done, the Victoria Horticultural Society reminds us. Bring garden records up to date and interpret them in terms of activities for 1944. If you keep records and every one should, it will be found to be one of the most interesting phases of gardening.

Renovate garden tools, store stakes and check all stored produce, dig a portion of the garden, leaving surface rough for the frosts to mellow. Taking a chance on winter losses, one may sow broad beans and early peas (Foremost, Blue Bantam, Little Marvel), in a sheltered, well-drained spot. Bulbs for winter may be potted. Cover pots with soil or old ashes for 6-8 weeks to encourage root formation. Start indoors in a cool place, give light when shoots appear and gradually bring to room temperature when leafy growth starts. Make structural alterations to the garden and paths, dig borders, divide and replant perennials, prepared ground for spring sown lawns. Remove dead leaves from sprouts to prevent rot.

REMINDER ON TOOLS

Tools are as necessary to the Victory gardener as weapons to the soldier and there is much the same obligation to keep them in order.

In spite of the fact that more tools and garden implements have been manufactured in North America for next year than were available last, the quantity will still be far behind the demand.

Greatest enemy of tools is rust, which attacks the metal parts during winter when tools are in storage, and does more damage than in summer, when they are in constant use. To check rust, first clean all outside metal parts by washing thoroughly. Caked mud should be softened and removed. Then dry, and cover the metal with a thin film of lubricating grease or oil. All bearings of wheel tools should be oiled.

New spraying and dusting equipment are most precious these days. They should be thoroughly dried and kept in a dry place, else they will be useless next spring and you may be able to buy nothing new in this line. A rack in the basement, so that every tool will have its place is the best way to keep tools in good shape.

SHARE TOLMIE HONORS

For the third year in success W. G. Burch, two-acre vegetable farmer of Shelbourne Street won the J. W. Tolmie Silver Challenge Cup and $5 for the finest collection of vegetables, 22 distinct kinds, at the annual autumn fair of North and South Saanich Agricultural Society.

Mr. Burch grows some of the best vegetables on Vancouver Island. He first won the Tolmie cup in 1935. For 10 years he has been farming on Shelbourne Street; before that he had a fine garden in Victoria. Gardening has been his life; he started when he was a boy in England. Second in the Tolmie competition this year was George Little of 131 Olive Street, who has taken the cup more times than anyone else in its history. He has won seven times.

Winners of this coveted and keenly contested cup during the years follow: 1917, W. J. Martindale; 1918, W. D. Mitchell; 1919, W. J. Martindale; 1920, W. D. Mitchell; 1921, Arthur P. Jeune; 1922, H. HOLSTEIN RECORD

A new Canadian record for lifetime production of milk, over all breeds, regardless of times milked daily, has just been established by Colony Fleta Hello, a member of the purebred Holstein herd of Essondale's Colony Farm.

She has produced on official record of performance test a total of 216,142 lbs of milk containing 7,208 lbs. of butterfat in eight lactations. It has been estimated that if this tremendous volume of milk were bottled in quarts the bottles would, if placed side by side, stretch approximately five and one half miles, or if it were possible to pile them on top of one another a column would be formed towering into the skies to twice the height of lofty Mount Everest.

GIRL WITH THE HOE SAYS: Annuals will be harder if you plant them in the fall. You will save yourself some work next spring if you sow them thinly. . . . Get the cold frame going. Transplant parsley, pansies and violas into it. You can have fresh mint for the lamb until late into the winter if you transplant a piece of mint into the frame. . . . Cut off and burn the old tops of perennials this fall. Don't leave them standing over winter, harboring fungus spores and insect eggs. . . . Divide and reset early spring blooming perennials such as bleeding hearts, peonies, leopard's bane, pyrethrums, Shasta daisies.

Briefs From Britain

Every baby born in Walton and Wybrigg, Surrey, receives a 15 shilling (about $3.40) savings certificate from the local savings committee chairman.

The Ruhr is "one vast heap of rubble," said Chief Engineer Charles Higgins, an exchanged prisoner of war who has just reached Britain.

A government leaflet for farmers says the Germans are using of phosphorus bombs in attacks on agricultural land and warns that crops on which they are dropped should be destroyed to prevent poisoning livestock.

BOOKS

ON HAVING FUN

"PARTIES IN WARTIME," by Louise Price Bell, published by Revell.

YOUR soldier boy friend is coming home and you want to plan a party that he'll remember for a long time to come. What kind of a shindig will he enjoy? You'll find the answer, along with dozens of other get-together suggestions in this book. The lady in khaki, Mrs. Bell reports, prefer a home party with plenty of home-cooked food, good coffee and cheerful, amusing girls who can dance. She provides complete details, including menus, games and quizzes, and the suggestion that you have on hand a phonograph to play the latest tunes for young couples.

Business girls pressed for time are advised to hold apartment picnics or jamborees to which they are invited by notices typed in the form of help-wanted ads. House-coolings instead of house-warmings are suggested for army and navy wives and war workers' wives who find they must pull up stakes and move on short notice.

Thoroughly delightful reading, with suggestions for many enjoyable evenings, "Parties in Wartime" is written from a practical viewpoint, with today's hectic conditions in mind. You'll enjoy everything from the victory garden party chapter to the paragraphs on Christmas capers.

MEDICAL CARE, 50¢ A WEEK
"KAISER WAKES THE DOCTORS," by Paul de Kruif, published by Harcourt, Brace.

THE BEST scientific medical care, complete in every detail, for every man, woman and child at a weekly cost to them of 50 cents each, is possible and practical for the immediate future, Mr. de Kruif reports on the basis of a study of Henry J. Kaiser's medical plan.

The books tell how Mr. Kaiser and his medical director, Dr. Sidney Garfield, put into effect a program of complete and expert medical care for Kaiser workers on a financial basis so sound that the cost of building and equipping hospitals and other facilities as well is covered. So far, the Kaiser plan for super-medical service within the pocketbook range of the common man applies only to Kaiser workers and, through the California Physicians' Service, to their families.

Extending it to other large industrial groups would not be difficult since the management and financial backing would be readily available. Extending it even to workers in small industries, white collar workers in small towns, farmers in remote rural areas, in fact, to the common man everywhere, is not impossible, according to the De Kruif-Kaiser-Garfield thinking. Such persons, they believe, could band together to create health centres for themselves, getting financial support until they are self-supporting from bankers. For the encouragement of the bankers, a government Medical Loan Agency, like a medical RFC, to guarantee 50 per cent of any losses, is suggested. These Mayo Clinics for the common man, as Dr. de Kruif terms them, would be for persons of small or moderate incomes. They would not keep doctors from treating wealthy patients as they do now. Dr. de Kruif believes, however, that very many specially trained doctors, particularly the younger ones, and those who will return to civilian life after the war, would be delighted to have an opportunity to practice high grade scientific medicine without worrying over finances—their own or their patients'.

For the Boys and Girls Overseas
Victoria Daily Times prints news of the week in capsule form to overcome regulations which forbid sending newspapers overseas. Clip and send it to relatives and friends in the forces.

ROY THORSEN, former Times newsman, now with the Seafarths, writes from deep in Italy that he took part in the assault on Hill—, Oct. 19, his first time under fire. "We crossed a screaming hell of bursting mortars, shells and machine gun fire," he says. "The good earth was really jumping from the stuff Jerry poured on us with his mortars and tank guns." ... Mrs. S. L. McMullen, Gordon Head, learns her nephew, Pte. Edward Melbourne McMullen, is wounded overseas ... Air Chief Commandant Katherine J. Trefusis Forbes, C.B.E., top ranking officer of Britain's Waafs, inspects girls of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) at Patricia Bay, Belmont House and Kildonan House, accompanied by SO Ann Brown of Victoria, now second in command of the W.D. at Pat Bay ... Victoria Anti-Chlorination League forms as battle over whether or not to chlorinate city's drinking water still rages ... Pay-Sub. Lieut.

NORMAN FLORENCE, R.C.N.V.R., returns home after 10 months overseas, during which he met his brother, Cpl. A. Florence, Lieut. Ted Colgate, Capt. Bill Menzies, all of the Canadian Army, and E. Butt, 490 Superior Street, falls down a manhole on Michigan Street, after cover was removed by children ... Mrs. J. E. Flack learns her nephew, Pte. L. E. Reginald Frank Williams, is reported missing after operations with R.A.F.

KENNETH F. SMITH, WO2, former member of 89th Victoria High Squadron, epistols for air crew in R.C.A.F., and leaves for Edmonton ... Death comes to Mrs. Ada Mary Jenner, for half a century Victoria's best-known caterer ... B.C. marriage boom now on down grade, with only 764 marriages in September, compared with 938 in the same month of 1942 ... Mrs. Irene Baird, former Victorian, now in

Ottawa with the National Film Board, visits New York with Canadian war films ... Too old for army overseas at 40, SQMS. Sanctity of Home Relationships Should Be Carried in the Heart

Texts: Exodus 20:14; Matthew 5:27-30; Mark 10:2-12
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

WE have just studied a lesson on the sacredness of human life against a present background of wartime destruction of human life on a scale that we should never have thought possible in modern times. Similarly, we must consider the sanctity of the home in the face of conditions that increasingly tend toward the disruption of the home and the nullifying influences that we have commonly associated with the home relationships of fatherhood, motherhood and family life.

It is true that we have "Mother's Day" and "Father's Day," and perhaps we should have "Sister's Day" and "Brother's Day." But this sort of emphasis may be as much a symptom of lessening regard for mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters as an evidence of enlarged affection. Most of us never needed a delegation and group of sailors from H.M.C.S. Naden ... Sgt. Raymond Rose receives air bomb-er's badge after graduating in R.C.A.F. ... Statistics show it is three times safer to have a baby in B.C. than it was 20 years ago, as maternal death rate drops from 68.8 per 1,000 live births in 1924 to 24.5 last year ... Maj. J. D. O'Toole, M.M., former administrative officer at Gordon Head O.T.C., returns from overseas to be deputy assistant adjutant-general of M.D. 13 ... More than 1,500 attend 30th annual police ball at Empress Hotel ... Maj. Alexander Spencer Page, 55, commandant of administrative headquarters for Pacific Command, dies at Vancouver.

OPENING GAME of Pacific Coast Hockey Association at Willows sees R.C.A.F. Sea Hawks defeat V.M.D. ... Mrs. Donald Wood, 930 Foul Bay Road, reports $750 ring either lost or stolen while moving from Prospect Lake ... Pte. Leonard Melburn Bowers previously reported wounded, is now reported not wounded in latest army casualty list from Ottawa ... After nearly a quarter of a century's service with David Spencer Ltd. Bertram E. Wilkinson, 1512 David Street, retires for reason of health ... Rev. F. E. M. Tomlinson of North Saanich, appointed to chaplaincy service of R.C.A.F. ... L.S. Charles Cluff, R.C.N., reported a member of H.M.C.S. Morden crew when that corvette rescued 102 survivors from merchant freighter ... Oak Bay High students make more than $3 a minute at their annual Red Cross fair to raise $1,200 this year.

WEARING FLEET Air Arm insignia, Lieut. (Pilot) Jack Grogan returns home on two weeks' leave after 14 months in England ... Elizabeth Holmes, 336 Newport Avenue, reports her bicycle stolen from Victoria High School ... Vancouver Island $57,650 short of Fifth Victory Loan quota, while Victoria unit fails to go over with $76,000 short of objective, and Oak Bay unit is $134,000 short ... R. S. M. John Sheppard, Signal Hill, wins efficiency medal and bar for 18 years' service with Canadian militia ... G. J. Keeper and S. A. Miles, both of Victoria, among latest airmen to graduate from No. 3 S.F.T.S.

NEWLYWEDES INCLUDE Lenora Francis and George Albert Lindquist, Doreen Dougan and Wm. A. McKay, Josie Verna Jenvey and Sg. Eric Henry Bennett, R.C.A.F.; Peggy Jones and Philip MacLean Poops, Marguerite Rita Huntley and Writter W. L. Wright, R.C.N.V.R.; Mildred Elizabeth Gardiner and LAC. Milton J. Bryans, Mary Kathleen Sullivan and Michael Gemby, R.C.N.V.R.; Pamela Muriel Grimston and LSA. Clifford William Kirchin, R.C.N.V.R.; Edith Aileen O'Malley and Sg. Snn. Kenneth Eric McConkey, R.C.N.V.R.; Phyllis Maud Cox and George Arthur Booth, Margaret Winifred Harper and Leo M. Dobinson, Joan Yvonne Stewart and Cpl. John Stewart Robinson.

ENGAGED ARE: Marguerite Mary Anderson and Sgt. David Logan Meharey, R.C.A.; Doreen Penketh and FO. Dorian Rayham Thomas, John, R.A.F.; Patricia Giles and Sydney Dye; Dorothy Phyllis Gill Hetherington and Gnr. Gordon Reginald Peters; Ethel Croft and FO. "Mother's Day" to remind us of love and devotion to our mothers; every day for us was mother's day.

I HAVE never forgotten a memorable occasion in Boston, when the late Senator Borah spoke in Symphony Hall on the recognition of Russia. In contrast with what has happened today, that was not then a popular proposal. A young man of the super-patriotic sort whose patriotism took the form of criticizing the patriotism of other people had posed himself in a prominent place in the front of the first gallery, and at a strategic moment he demanded to know why an American flag was not displayed on the platform.

There was an angry interruption, but Mr. Borah silenced it, and turning to the interrupter he said, "Young man, I have had nothing to do with the arrangements for this meeting, but I want you to know that wherever I go, and wherever I speak, I carry the flag and the principles of the Constitution in my heart." That is the place for them, and no amount of outward display of zeal will compensate if they are not in the heart. I mention this because it is so true, also, of all that applies to the home, and to family relationships. "Days," and outward symbols, good in themselves, will be inadequate to stem the tide that tends to overwhelm the sacredness of home and family life, if there is not in the heart the true reverence for the sanctity of the home.

STORY of an OLD PIANO

It had been the pride and joy of the family once upon a time, but actually had hardly been open for several years. The lady traded it in at Fletcher's for a lovely modern Chesterfield and went home extremely pleased. And Fletcher gave that old piano such a treatment inside and out that another owner was equally pleased with a real bargain in a fine reconditioned piano. And we were pleased to have so completely pleased two delighted patrons.

8th Army Patrol Crosses Sangro; Lost Ground Rewon

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALGIERS (AP)—A British 8th Army patrol has crossed the Sangro River along the eastern end of the Nazi winter line in Italy and U.S. 5th Army troops in sharp fighting have captured two more towns north of Venafro, it was announced today at Allied headquarters.

On Mount Camino, overlooking Mignano from the southwest, Allied forces battled back to seize again high ground they had occupied Wednesday but lost in German counterattacks Thursday. This thrust added new positions beyond Wednesday's advance.

Mignano, on the inland highway leading through Cassino to Rome, is one of the most stubbornly-defended German positions and the enemy has clung tenaciously to the heights commanding it on the east and west.

There is bitter fighting under extremely difficult conditions at several points as the Allies probe the strongly-held German line, but the front as a whole has seen little change during the last 24 hours, Allied headquarters announced.

TWO HILL TOWNS FALL

The towns captured by U.S. troops of Lt. Gen. Mark Clark's 5th Army were Filignano, 30 miles north of Venafro, and Pozzilli, two miles north of Venafro, both in the hills overlooking the upper Volturno valley.

The Germans were putting up the most stubborn resistance on the 5th Army front in the Venafro and Mignano regions, where any deep Allied wedge there would seriously impair other points of their line.

In one clash, Americans seized a hill, killing 30 Nazis and wounding 30 more. The retreating Germans ran into one of their own minefields, suffering further casualties. U.S. losses were one killed and three wounded.

Near the Tyrrhenian coast, German patrols were active, crossing the Garigliano River in some cases.

An 8th Army patrol cut over the Sangro River at an unexpected point on the eastern end of the front and wiped out a German machine gun nest.

About 15 miles inland from the Adriatic, men of Gen. Montgomery's 8th Army fought for positions between Casalunga, held by the Allies, and Aversa, in German hands. The British troops occupied important high ground, and repulsed a German counter-attack.

Small advances were reported in the Ronero area up the road through the mountains north of Isernia, in Central Italy.

(A Berlin broadcast said a British general named Staverly and a British staff officer were captured in a thrust against Allied troops west of Isernia.)

FOOT MEN BEAR BRUNT

With the Germans dug into well-concealed positions, the main job at present falls to infantrymen, who must scale the heights, creep up to and wipe out the Nazis with bayonets or grenades. They are fighting in mud and snow, and carrying supplies in country too rough even for mules.

A naval communiqué disclosed a heavy sea bombardment of enemy positions along the Gulf of Gaeta Tuesday night and again at dawn Wednesday. R.A.F. planes joined in the blasting of the Nazis' western coastal flank, dropping flares to guide the gunners on the British destroyers Tyrian, Tumult and Grenville, and the Polish destroyer Flom.

Langford Lake Home Destroyed by Fire

A summer home on the Island Highway side of Langford Lake was destroyed by fire at 7 this morning, but Mr. and Mrs. S. Bloomfield and their two small children escaped unharmed.

The whole of the Langford community was aroused by the fire, which illuminated the lake and surrounding countryside. The Colwood-Langford fire brigade was called out but the house could not be saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Bloomfield, who said there had been no fire in their house after 8:30 p.m. Friday, are staying with neighbors. They saved only a few clothes. The Terguson house next door was badly scorched, but not seriously damaged.

3 Juveniles Held On Murder Charge

WINNIPEG (CP)—The case of three juveniles, charged with the murder of a guard at the Vaughan St. detention home here, today was remanded for a week when they appeared before Judge F. A. E. Hamilton in juvenile court. The remand was granted when counsel for the youths objected to transfer of the case to the city

Attempt to Steal Park Deer Fails

An attempt apparently to convert show deer in Beacon Hill Park into venison steaks and roasts without surrendering ration coupons was reported Friday by city police and W. H. Warren, parks superintendent.

But apparently the deer, being "in a pugnacious mood just now," foiled the attacks of the meat-hungry culprits.

Officers found a large hole had been cut in the deer pen fence and reported unsuccessful efforts had been made to catch the deer.

Police, however, believe the appetites of the thieves were satisfied for both chicken and pheasant feathers were in evidence near the bird pen.

Saanich Controversy

M. P. Paine, member of the Saanich citizens' committee formed to deal with the inquiry into affairs at Mount View High School, today announced a meeting Monday night to prepare a statement dealing with "errors in recent statements of the controversy between the Saanich School Board and the Department of Education."

As spokesman for the committee chairman, Mr. Paine said that at no time has the school board used the word "misconduct" as used by the Council of Public Instruction, referring to Dr. Thomas' actions in their discussions with the Department of Education.

"Nor was it used in Judge J. O. Wilson's report," said Mr. Paine. "It is the opinion of the committee that by appointing Dr. Thomas supervising principal of Mount View High School, the Saanich School Board did not as previously reported reject the recommendations of Judge Wilson."

R.C.A.F. Handles Trial

Sgt. William Alfred Roper, R.C.A.F., wireless air gunner, today faced air force court martial on a charge of indecent assault on a female, the police court charge having been withdrawn with the consent of the informant, a member of the forces, and the deputy attorney-general.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said he would consent to the withdrawal on condition the man was taken into custody and tried by the air force and he was informed of the result of the trial.

The procedure, believed to be the first adopted in local courts here, follows the practice for Dominion troops overseas.

Witness Faces Charge

Joseph Patrick McDonough, merchant seaman, chief prosecution witness in the Murray Lang Frampton indecent assault trial, now before assize court here, today was charged with actual bodily harm assault of Frampton.

In city police court McDonough, represented by Arthur Dawe, entered neither plea nor election.

Man Shot to Death

B.C. Police headquarters learned Friday Cecil C. McKeown, of Scotty Creek, near Clinton, had been found shot to death. No other details were given in the brief radio message although it was understood an inquest was to be conducted today.

Denies He Said It Hits C.C.F. Socialism

REGINA (CP)—Harold Winch, British Columbia C.C.F. leader, denied today that a question relating to his party's policy regarding the use of police and military force under a C.C.F. regime had been asked and answered as reported in a Calgary dispatch on his Nov. 9 meeting in that city.

The report which Mr. Winch challenged stated he had been asked what would be the position of the police and military forces in the event of moves for a change and had replied that the C.C.F. would institute Socialism immediately and would use the power of the police and military forces to force those opposed to obey the law.

The reported question and answer were not asked and answered as the dispatch stated, Mr. Winch said. The actual question asked was: "In the event of a C.C.F. government taking power and big industry and high finance refusing to accept the change to Socialism, what would the C.C.F. do?"

His answer to that question was: "When a C.C.F. government comes into power it will be because the people have given it a mandate to institute a Socialist program. They will have given the C.C.F. a majority which will make it the government."

"The C.C.F. will immediately proceed to enact legislation in accordance with its program. If big industry and high finance refuse to obey the laws, democratically placed on the statute books, then they will be in the same position as one who breaks the law today and would have to be handled as lawbreakers by the police and military forces."

Honor Spanish Veteran

In honor of Lionel Backler, former member of the Victoria Daily Times staff who met death in 1937 during the Spanish Civil War as a member of the International Brigade, a Victorian has mailed a sum of money to headquarters of the brigade in London. Reports of ill-treatment of Loyalist prisoners still in Franco's prison camps prompted her to make the donation. Little is known of the remnants of the brigade still in Spain save that many of the men who fought with Backler are lying ill and starved in Franco's camps.

power immediately caused the concession to be withdrawn. Answering a question regarding a suggestion that President Roosevelt arbitrate the present dispute over Lebanon's status, Mr. Saloum said the people of the Arab world have much faith in the United States, whom they consider has no imperialistic ambitions.

Spirituous Welfare

COURTENAY, B.C.—Starting today liquor coupons will be issued from the official Welfare Department here.
"Your spirituous welfare will be well taken care of by an extra staff," says the announcement. "Everybody in the country, including all the French soldiers, want liquor coupons, so the liquor commission decided to use the Welfare Office to handle the crowds."

Lebanon Riots Seen as First Test Of Atlantic Charter

Solution of the present disorders in Lebanon presents the first real test case of the Atlantic Charter the Allies have yet faced, A. J. Saloum, graduate of the American University of Beirut, now of Toronto, said on his arrival here to address the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. A Syrian, Mr. Saloum left his native land seven years ago and in 1941 became a Canadian citizen.

"The Lebanese are seizing their chance to throw off the rule of France they have hated for 20 years while French power is at its lowest ebb," he said. "They never stood a better chance of gaining their desire for an independent constitution. Meanwhile, the Allies can retain their influence through treaties as they have in other countries of the Near East."

DISLIKE FRENCH YOKE

Three factors are in favor of the Lebanese, according to Mr. Saloum. Neither Britain nor America can risk a dissatisfied Arab nation after associating themselves with the promises of freedom in the Atlantic Charter. The war is not sufficiently won to underestimate Fascist influence in the Arab world. If the Allies do fail to grant their freedom, the Lebanese may find it expedient to turn to Russia as a solution to their troubles.
"Every disorder in Lebanon can be traced to a burning desire to throw off the yoke of France," he said. "Behind the present uprising is the fact that though British troops occupied the country in 1941, Britain set up a French commissioner."
Tracing Lebanon's history, now culminating in today's disorders, Mr. Saloum said that dissatisfaction with Turkish rule at the outbreak of the first World War, they and the Syrians did everything in their power to align themselves with the Arab world which in turn aligned itself with the Allies. Their ultimate object was freedom from the Turks and an independent national state with possibility of membership in the Arab federation then being contemplated.
Believing the Allies to be their salvation, and acting upon British promises for the attainment of their hopes, they fought against Germany. Following the war the Arabs, signified by plebiscite their desire to live under the protection of either American or British rule, but the outcome of a secret agreement between Lloyd George and Clemenceau gave France the protection of Syria and Lebanon.

ARABS TRUST U.S.

"From 1919 to 1939 the French tried to manage the country, and their rule was rotten," Mr. Saloum said. "Thus the Lebanese emerged from a dissatisfied nation under the Turks to a more dissatisfied nation under the French. Adding to their discontent is the fact they have never forgiven the Allies for the deal they received, and the mounting roll of Syrian dead in fighting against the French.
Outbreak of the present war, he said, found some of the Lebanese and Syrians turning to the Fascist camp in hope of a solution and the people were divided in that direction. Constantly shifting French governments had given them no concessions, or if they had a sudden change in

Asks Council Help Block Chlorination

A notice of motion to the City Council asking it to seek R. W. Mayhew's assistance in having federal authorities avoid operation of the chlorination plant now being installed here was on file at the City Hall today from A.H. F. E. George.

The motion asks Mr. Mayhew to seek a decision by the government "whereby the chlorination plant at present being installed to treat the city's water would be made and constantly kept ready in every respect for full operation, but would be kept inoperative as a standby unit to be used if and when, and for only such time as a real danger of enemy action or sabotage might threaten the water supply or the count of coliform bacteria in the water might exceed the international standard."

1 of 3 Naval Ratings Will Plead Guilty

Joseph McKenna, counsel for Frank Troughton, facing with Arthur Wilson Cann and William Stadyuk two charges of breaking and entering and theft, said today Troughton would plead guilty.

The three naval ratings were charged in connection with the break-ins of the stores of Rose's Ltd. and M. Kilburger, two Victoria jewelry firms.

New charges of applying for second liquor permits were read against Troughton and Stadyuk today. Troughton pleaded not guilty.

All charges were remanded until Monday.

Victoria Airman, Too Reckless As Pilot, Wins D.F.C.

A Victoria airman who was washed out as a pilot because he was too reckless, and then completed his training as a pilot observer, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

He is: P.O. G. M. Ewan, R.C.A.F., nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Norton, 883 Dunsmuir Road.

Born at Blairmore, Alta., 26 years ago, J. Ewan came to Victoria with his parents at an early age and was educated at Victoria West and Oaklands Schools, Mount View High School, Victoria College and University of British Columbia. His schooling here was broken for a period when he went to New Mexico, following the death of his father.

He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1941 with an ambition to become an air pilot. Going overseas as a pilot observer he proved so good at ferrying planes that he had to pull all the strings he knew to go aircrew and get into action over enemy territory.

Ewan was included in one of the biggest lists of decorations for Canadian airmen announced Friday night from Ottawa.
A well-attended representation of the various churches met in the Y.W.C.A. in the interests of the Mission to Lepers. The speaker was the Rev. W. L. McKay and the chairman Dr. I. B. Rowell. The general secretary in London reported that in China many distressing cases of leprosy had to be turned away owing to lack of accommodation.

Improved Implements For Postwar Farmers
CHICAGO (AP)—The postwar farmer will have improved implements for seeding and cultivating crops, says Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

The common moldboard plow which for generations has been the farmer's implement for breaking the soil may be discarded after the war, in favor of a new type which he exhibited at the third annual friends of the land conference Friday.

Dr. Bennett exhibited a flat, winged plow which breaks the soil of large farm fields much the same as a scuffle hoe in a small garden. It is drawn through the ground like a plow, at varying depths according to the crop to be planted, but rarely more than four inches below the surface. It does not turn the soil over in furrows, he explained, but cuts parallel to the ground surface, allowing plant stubble from the previous crop to remain on the surface as a mulch.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am married to a brilliant and interesting woman who is a wonderful house-keeper and a good cook when she can drag herself away from her books long enough to remember that there is anything about the house to be done. She reads all the time and when I come home at night she will look up with horror on her face and exclaim: "Oh, dear, I've forgotten to put on dinner," or else the house will be full of the smell of burning food.

How can I bring her down to earth long enough to see that you have to take some time from books to run a house?

A HUSBAND.

Answer: Buy her an alarm clock, if you are lucky enough to get one these war times, and tell her that before she sits down to a book to set it for the time at which she must do her house-

Opens Monday

Members of the cast of Andrew Stone's riotous comedy hit, "Hi Diddle Diddle," are walking around Hollywood's lots with their tongues in their cheeks. For they have just witnessed the hilariously funny animated sequences that open and close the Frederick Jackson screenplay. But nobody is willing to talk. From producer-director Stone to the lowliest porter everyone who has seen the sequences agrees that fans will simply have to wait for the opening on Monday at the Plaza and Oak Bay Theatres.

Mr. Stone, who arranged with Leon Schlesinger for the animated sequences, refuses to divulge their contents. He says only that they have a definite part in the action and involve the stars of the picture, Adolphe Menjou, Martha Scott, Pola Negri, June Havoc, Dennis O'Keefe and Billie Burke.

Gay 'Wintertime'
Comes to Capitol

Happy times are in store for you in "Wintertime," the 20th Century-Fox musical hit starring Sonja Henie, which is coming Monday to the Capitol Theatre. Filmed in the mountain resort area of the Canadian snow-covered mountains, this film is natural screen entertainment. Lovely Sonja skates into the hearts of the audience to the wonderful rhythms of Woody Herman and his orchestra.

Jack Oakie, Carole Landis and Cesar Romero add the imprint of their delightful personalities to the general scene, making the film a four star favorite.

Runyon Story Hit
Featured at York

Every element which goes to make up a great picture is combined in RKO Radio's "The Big Street," Damon Runyon's production of his own famous short story, "Little Fink," starring Henry Fonda and Lucille Ball, comes to the York Theatre Monday. Silhouetted against the background of typical New York and Florida night spots and resort centres, the film combines a soul-stirring love story, tense drama, sparkling Runyonesque comedy, elaborate sets and tuneful music.

Ros Russell Plays
Famed Airwoman

The mystery surrounding the last flight of a world-famous woman flier is dramatically revealed in the RKO Radio's thrilling story of love and adventure, "Flight For Freedom," starring Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray, and coming to the Atlas Theatre Monday. New York, New Orleans, Miami, Hawaii, New Guinea, Japan, the film follows the operations of an American aircraft carrier, and the exploits of American fighter and bomber planes furnish the backgrounds for this powerful story of love and sacrifice.

Herbert Marshall heads the supporting cast.

RIO THEATRE

Joe E. Brown who impersonates a woman in many comedy scenes for his Columbia picture, "Shut My Big Mouth," now at the Rio Theatre, with Adele Mara and Victor Jory, had all of his feminine wardrobe designed by women who create Rita Hayworth's screen fashions.

CADET THEATRE

The tables are turned when flimflam's greatest booster, the movie fan, becomes a star in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Youngest Profession," now at the Cadet Theatre.

Workers Still Going To Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Civilian workers are flooding into Vancouver in increasing numbers each month, a check of applications for housing received at the National Housing registry here during the past seven months shows.

Heads of the armed forces have been co-operating to the fullest extent. Service men coming to the coast are leaving their families behind, says Miss Millie Fleming, office manager of the registry.

Civilian workers, however, are bringing their families, with no place to live, despite warnings before they move, that Vancouver has no place for them to stay, Miss Fleming reports.

In April last there were 245 applications for housing in the city from civilian workers, many of them without jobs and without permits from National Selective Service to seek work in Vancouver.

In October, the number of applications from civilians had jumped to 645, representing approximately 1,700 persons.

Honors First Test

1936 was a most memorable year for lovely soprano, Vivian Della Chiesa, who will be heard here on the Hillier Attractions Modernage Entertainment series, Nov. 24, that was the year of her first professional engagement.

It was in February, 1936, that Miss Della Chiesa, coaxed and urged by an enthusiastic friend, entered an unknown singers contest sponsored by one of the major radio networks in Chicago. Three thousand women singers participated and Vivian approached the contest with fear and trepidation, not thinking that she had a "ghost of a chance." She was the winner by the unanimous selection of the judges! The prize was a sustaining radio contract for 13 weeks. However, two weeks after winning, Vivian received a commercial contract—and has been on the air ever since!

That same year, Paul Longone heard Miss Della Chiesa on the air—an audition was arranged with the Chicago Opera Company, and Longone engaged her to sing the role of Mimi in "La Boheme" with the Opera Company. So successful was the young soprano's debut, and so overwhelming were the plaudits she received for her performance, that she was immediately re-engaged for the following year, as she has been for each successive year since November 15, 1936, when she made her first opera appearance!

Smile Show M.C.
Well Known On Air

Fit-Lt. Hugh Parker, master of ceremonies in the new R.A.F. Crazy Smile Show which comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 17, is already well known to radio audiences, not only in B.C. but also to thousands of people across Canada. During the last 18 months Fit-Lt. Parker has broadcast nearly 150 times and his three weekly radio talks on "Security" have brought congratulatory messages from all over the country.

In this new R.A.F. riot, Hugh Parker makes a vain effort to introduce order into the crazy clowning of this all-service cast. Cpl. Jack Griffith is the most irresponsible member, appearing from the wings, the aisles or from the roof when least expected.

A crazy chorus of "girls" has been one of the highlights of this new show's appearances to service audiences and civilian audiences will, no doubt, get the same enjoyment from the clumsy capers of these R.A.F. "chorines."

Through popular demand the "Four Hoses and One Piano" act, featuring Sgt. Ronnie Brown and LAC. Leslie Minto has been carried over from the old show. Tickets for this new Crazy Smile Show can be obtained from Fletcher's Music Store.
